Good morning! It's Elly from 851 and I'm here this Motivational Monday on behalf of the S.E.A.L Team.

This week is really important because it's Anti-Bullying Week. We want to make sure that everyone in The Madeleine Brennan School feels safe and happy, and that means being kind to each other.

There's a famous quote that says, "Treat others the way you want to be treated." That means if we want people to be nice to us, we have to be nice to them. It's like a circle of kindness, and it starts with each one of us.

Being respectful to one another is a big part of this week. It means not saying mean things, not making fun of others, and not hurting anyone's feelings. We all deserve to be treated with respect, and when we do that, we create a better, happier environment for everyone. So, let's remember to be kind and respectful this Anti-Bullying Week and always. Together, we can make IS 201 a school where everyone feels valued and safe. Thank you!

Thanks for listening have a Make a Difference Monday 😊
